| Essay In the rapidly evolving landscape of education technology, MaivenPoint Examena has emerged a trailblazer. Examena strategically applies technology such as AI and workflow automation to uphold the integrity of examinations conducted remotely, making it possible to effectively administrate assessments for learners from around the world with a streamlined remote team. Traditional proctoring tools are often undermined by human error in manual processes, potential bias and a lack of flexibility to support time adjustments required for candidates with special needs. On top of that, traditional platforms are resource intensive with long onboarding cycles. The Australia and New Zealand College of Veterinary Scientists (ANZCVS), which facilitates the certification renewals for tens of thousands of vet professionals in the region had this problem, for example. Before MaivenPoint's solution, it took ANZCVS hundreds of hours to label, pack, transport and distribute exam papers. Each examination cycle required up to 400 people, including overseas candidates, examiners, invigilators and observers, to travel to Queensland. With Examena, they transitioned to a digitised, centralised system within three months. Examena supports assessment resilience with an app that guarantees exam continuity in the event of internet disruption, and offers data protection, encryption, single sign-on and central monitoring, all via a cloud-based subscription service. This means IT teams of institutions and organisations no longer have to worry about IT infrastructure, and are able to streamline the entire examination process from scheduling to proctoring to marking, in an entirely remote or hybrid manner. "As a not-for-profit organisation, it was vital for us to balance our requirements, costs, resources, and future needs when looking for a solution," Stephen Alderman, CEO of ANZCVS shared. "Other solutions cost hundreds of thousands of dollars to implement and tens of thousands to maintain each year, as well as significant customisation to meet our needs." Ultimately, Examena has saved them hundreds administrative hours in each exam cycle and they have had a 100 per cent candidate completion rate on all exams. For administrators, Examena provides real-time analytics for actionable insights, enabling them to maintain assessment quality. Fully integrated with Microsoft 365, Examena streamlines examination preparation with intuitive exam scheduling and planning, and automated question assignments and marking. Examena's innovative features set it apart from its competitors. The integration of AI, for anti-monitoring capabilities and for instant quiz generation (using ChatGPT), reduces assessment preparation time and distinguishes Examena from other tools. The platform's focus on the entire assessment process, including collaborative authoring and post-exam processing, showcases its commitment to innovation. In December 2023, at the Singapore University of Social Sciences (SUSS) end of Semester exams, the Examena app was utilized by over 17,000 students over a week long exam period. This is the first time SUSS conducted their major exams in a hybrid assessment setup, where students brought their own devices to the exam centre, downloaded Examena to retrieve their exam packages, and proctored by the team administrating the exam. This is their biggest program where exams are entirely digitally authored, administered and marked on a single platform. Once again, proving the robustness of Examena in catering to the resilience and integrity required for high-stakes exams. Examena's recognition in the Edtech Breakthrough Awards as the "Test Prep Solution of the Year" for two consecutive years, and "Learning Assessment Award" in the Wharton-QS Reimagine Education Awards further solidifies its status as an innovative tool in education technology. The acknowledgment underscores Examena's excellence in providing a transformative experience for both students and educators. MaivenPoint, a company of AvePoint, has also been consecutively recognised as a leading partner in the Education category of the Microsoft Partner of the Year Awards 2022 and 2023, acknowledging outstanding successes and innovations by Microsoft's education partners in over 100 countries. |
