OUR INVITATION

We invite your organization to submit nominations to the 2027 (14th annual) Asia-Pacific Stevie® Awards, the top honors in the region for achievement in the workplace. The focus of these awards is on recognizing innovation in every aspect of the workplace, wherever it occurs.

All organizations and individuals in 29 markets of the Asia-Pacific region are eligible to submit nominations to the awards - large and small, public and private, for-profit and non-profit.

The Stevie Award trophy, the prize that is conferred in the Asia-Pacific Stevie Awards and all other Stevie Award programs, is one of the world's most coveted honors. Many of world's largest and most famous organizations have won Stevie Awards; however, most of our winners each year are small and midsize organizations that are still growing and building their brands.

This booklet explains how to prepare and submit nominations to the Asia-Pacific Stevie Awards. The first important step in entering is to review the categories and choose the ones in which you'll participate.

Eligibility extends from 1 January 2025 through the date on which you submit your nominations. Nominations that won in the 2026 Asia-Pacific Stevie Awards may be resubmitted for consideration in the 2027 awards. If they have not been updated, they must be submitted to categories different from those in which they won.

In this entry kit you will find a summary of the submission requirements and the categories. Detailed instructions are provided on the website, and you'll find links to those instructions throughout these pages. All of this information is also available on the website at Asia.StevieAwards.com.

Winners will be notified on 24 March and celebrated at a gala event in May.

We encourage your organization to submit entries to the Asia-Pacific Stevie Awards. Please don't hesitate to contact us with your questions about how to participate.

2027 ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

For most categories in the Asia-Pacific Stevie® Awards, entries will consist of the following components. You may submit either written or video content in your chosen categories, along with optional supporting materials to help judges get the full picture of your achievements and verify claims made in the entry.

Nominations that won in the 2026 Asia-Pacific Stevie Awards may be resubmitted for consideration in the 2027 awards. If they have been updated with recent achievements, they may be submitted to the same categories in which they won. If they have not been updated, they must be submitted to categories different from those in which they won.

In most categories, each entry must include:

- a. An essay of up to 4,900 characters describing the nominated innovative achievements since 1 January 2025, OR a video of up to five (5) minutes in length describing the same.
- b. Optional (but highly recommended), add to your entry up to 10 webpage links and up to 10 document uploads to support your case to the judges. These might be press articles, press releases, videos, or images, for example.

ENTRY TIPS

- Give each nomination a clear and concise nomination title.
- Add at least one supporting link or attachment. Judges want to see that you've made the effort to back up the claims of achievement made in your nomination. Not all claims can be verified, but do the best you can to show support. We recommend submitting no more than 10 webpage URLs and 10 documents.
- You may submit the same entry content in multiple categories, as long as the categories' requirements are identical.

HOW TO ENTER

SUBMIT NOMINATIONS IN ANY OF 30+ LANGUAGES

We have a translation tool built into our entry system. You may submit written nominations in any of 30+ languages, and our system will translate them to English for our judges to review and score. Please note that only your written submission will be translated, not any supporting material uploads or links. All judging will be done in English, and judges will be told that a translation tool may have been used.

ENTRY PREPARATION TIPS

Write Your Entries Offline Before Submitting Them

Write your entries offline to keep a permanent record. Then, submit them through our simple online system. Avoid writing directly online, as technical issues with your computer or our system could cause you to lose your work.

Include Supporting Materials and Links

For most categories, supporting files or URLs are optional. However, we strongly recommend including at least your organization's website URL so judges can access basic information about your organization.

Focus on Achievements During the Eligibility Period

The 2027 Asia-Pacific Stevie® Awards eligibility period is from 1 January 2025, through 17 February 2027. Entries may mention earlier achievements but must focus on this period—the judges will not score entries highly if they do not.

How to Submit Entries for Multiple Clients

PR and marketing agencies submitting for multiple clients should create (or login to) one account under the agency's name. You'll be able to associate each nomination you submit with particular clients, including their names, industries, and other details.

Test Your Links

If you include links to videos, images, or other materials, be sure to test them before submitting. Preview your entry and click the links to ensure they work and show the intended content to the judges.

Video Entries and Other Media Materials

Attachments should be directly downloadable and easy to access. For videos, use a YouTube, Vimeo, or similar link that plays instantly. If that's not possible, upload the video file instead.

Giving Titles to Your Entries

When choosing a title for your entries, don't include the category name — judges will see it. For individual nominations, simply use the person's name and job title unless additional text adds meaningful context. Keep titles simple.

Well-Written and Succinct

Stevie-winning entries are clear, focused, and modest. Highlight a few key accomplishments in detail rather than listing many briefly, and keep the writing concise.

ENTRY FEES

Entry fees are summarized in a PDF document which you may download here.

If appropriate, an entry may be entered in multiple categories; and the fees are due for each category entered. Each entry will be judged separately in each category entered. Entries submitted in multiple categories are eligible to win multiple awards.

No refunds will be made after 21 January 2027. Entries submitted after 21 January 2027 will be assessed a late fee of $55 (per entry) in addition to the entry fee, but will not be penalized in any way in the judging.

There are no other required fees. Stevie® Award winners receive a complimentary winners package with winner logos, graphics, press release templates, and more. Attending the award ceremony or receiving your Stevie Award in the mail are optional. You do not have to do either to be a Stevie winner in good standing.

Payment may be made by credit card, check, or wire transfer. We accept American Express, Mastercard, and Visa. Payment by check must be made in U.S. dollars by check or draft drawn on a U.S. bank payable to Stevie Awards, Inc. Non-U.S. bank checks will be returned. Please note the name of the entering organization on your check or draft.

When paying your entry fees, you'll be offered the choice to "pay now" or "pay later." If you choose the pay-later option, your invoice will feature bank-transfer instructions.

JUDGING AND DETERMINATION OF WINNERS

All entries are first reviewed by Stevie® Awards staff to ensure that eligibility requirements are met, entries are properly formatted, and nominations have been submitted in appropriate categories.

Judging of entries will be conducted from 1 February through 16 March 2027, in one round to determine the Gold, Silver, and Bronze Stevie® Award winners. Judges are recruited worldwide, either by invitation or through applications submitted on the Asia-Pacific Stevie Awards website, and are assigned to category groups by Stevie Awards staff based on their industry, function, and experience. Judges will not be assigned to categories in which their own organizations have submitted entries.

Each entry is reviewed and rated by no fewer than five (5) volunteer judges who have been approved as qualified (by Stevie Awards staff) to judge those entries. All entries are viewed and rated at the judges' convenience over the Internet. Rating is done on a scale of 1–10.

All entries that receive an average score of at least 8.0 out of a possible 10, regardless of category, are automatically conferred Stevie Award status. Entries with average scores of 7.75–7.99 may be conferred award status at the discretion of Stevie Awards administration, but are not guaranteed award placement.

Every category that has at least one qualifying entry (with a final average score of at least 8.0/10) will have at least one Gold Stevie Award winner. The qualifying entry with the highest average score in a category will be awarded the Gold Stevie Award. The top 45% of other qualifying entries will be accorded Silver Stevie status. The remaining 55% of qualifying entries will be accorded Bronze Stevie Award status.

New for 2027, the final results in the Company/Organization Awards categories will be determined by a blending of the average scores of our professional judges and the votes of the general public. Nominees in these categories will be given tools they may use to encourage their customers, employees, communities, social media followers, and others to vote for their organizations. The public will see only the names of nominated organizations, not the content of their nominations. For every 1,000 public votes a nomination receives, a full point will be added to the judges' average score.

In addition, each Company/Organization nomination that receives at least 2,000 public votes will be awarded a crystal People's Choice Stevie Award for Favorite Companies, regardless of whether it also receives a Gold, Silver, or Bronze Stevie Award.

The veracity of claims made in entries may be audited. Any entry found to contain false or misleading information will be disqualified. Gold Stevie-winning entries will be published on the Asia-Pacific Stevie Awards website after winners have had the opportunity to redact confidential or non-public information from them.

Determination of Grand Stevie Award Winners

It is our tradition to present five Grand Stevie Awards in the Asia-Pacific Stevie Awards. The Grand ("best of show") Stevie Award trophy is awarded to only a handful of organizations in each of the nine Stevie Awards competitions. In the Asia-Pacific Stevie Awards, one Grand Stevie Award is presented to the most honored organization, and one to each of the highest-scoring nominations in the four markets that submitted the most nominations..

There are dozens of categories for Organizations, Sustainability, Management, Marketing, Tech, AI, Podcasts, and much more.

4

When you win a Stevie Award, you and your colleagues get to deliver a speech on stage before a global audience, and network with top professionals at our gala, also broadcast live worldwide.

THE STEVIE® AWARD

The Stevie Award trophy is one of the world's most coveted prizes. Since 2002 the Gold Stevie Award has been conferred for achievement in the workplace to organizations and individuals in more than 70 nations and territories.

The name Stevie is taken from the name Stephen, which is derived from the Greek for "crowned."

The crystal pyramid held aloft by Stevie represents the hierarchy of human needs, a system often represented as a pyramid that was developed in the 1960s by psychologist Abraham Maslow, who observed that after their basic needs are met, human beings seek the esteem of their peers.
