The Megaworld Lifestyle Malls x Catriona Enviro-Chic Bag campaign emerged as a direct response to the rising consumer demand for purpose-driven retail and sustainable fashion. Positioned at the intersection of commerce and conscience, the campaign translated environmental advocacy into tangible economic results through a data-informed, video-led direct response strategy.

The Fashion with a Purpose video series narrated the journey of each bag—from reclaimed tarpaulins to artisanal eco-accessories designed by sustainability advocate, Catriona Gray. The content was adapted across platforms to guide audiences toward action: exchanging 35 plastic bottles and making a minimum purchase to receive a bag. This call-to-action effectively aligned sustainability with transactional engagement.
